

Leverhulme Trust
Disabled Young People and Enabling Transitions
A Symposium
Apex International, Edinburgh, 19th January 2015

Tea and Coffee on Arrival 9.30

Alan Roulstone and Sarah Woodin. University of Leeds

Overview of Network Findings and New Insights from the literature 10.00

Omar Haq-Lothian Centre for Inclusive Living, Edinburgh

Navigating the Choppy Waters of Transition-A Personal Perspective, 10.45

Phillipa Wiseman, University of Glasgow Institute of Health & Wellbeing

Towards Complexity in Comprehending Young Disabled People's Independence 11.30

COMFORT BREAK AND COFFEE 12.15

Kay Tisdall, University of Edinburgh, Social Policy

Learning from the Intersections of Childhood Studies,
Disability Studies and Youth Transitions 12.30

LUNCH 1.15

Fraser Mitchell, Team Leader, Social Work, Fife Council

Self-Directed Support, Disabled Young People and Good Transitions 2.15

Judith Midgely, The Institute for Research and Innovation in Social Services
The Social Care (Self-directed Support) (Scotland) Act 2013 and the Pilotlight Transitions Project 3.00

Anne Good, National Disability Authority, EIRE
Challenges for Young Disabled People-What Happens when the Celtic Tiger
Ceased to Roar? 3.45

Jonathan Warren, University of Durham-
Photographic Methods and Researching Social Exclusion 4.15

Drinks in the Hotel Bar 5.00

Dinner 6.00

Network Organisers

Prof Alan Roulstone, Dr Sarah Woodin, University of Leeds, UK

Prof Susanne Bruyere, Cornell University, USA

Dr Jan Siska, Charles Prague University, Czech republic

Dr Ed De Vos, University of Amsterdam, Netherlands

Professor Lisa Pfahl, Humboldt University, United Germany